Children's Play on Two Nights

"Snow White," that charming fairy tale from the German of the Grimm's, will be given by the juvenile players of Carmel, at the Forest Theatre, on the evenings of Friday and Saturday of this week. It has been especially adapted for use here by its producers, Herbert Heron and John Hilliard, and will be presented with unusual stage settings by William P. Silva. The workmanship will be done by Phil Whiting.

Beautiful costumes have been designed by Mrs. Wise, and the lighting will show some startingly original effects. Thomas Vincent Cator will play incidental music for the lovely elfin dances of the butterflies and fairies are in charge of Jeannette Hoagland. In all, there are twenty speaking parts—seven dwarfs and eight maids of honor, and numerous children as extras.

Snow White, the title role, is taken by Grace Wickham with naivette and charm.

Marian Boke, as the wicked Queen Brangomar, is most convincing.

Doris McEntyre plays the Witch Hex with a sincerity that makes one shudder for little Snow White.

Prince Florimond is portrayed by Virginia Brinton with ease and grace.

Theodore Solomons is seen as Dandiprat Bombas, Court Chamberlain, a part into which he enters with real artistry.

Little Jesse Goold appears in the silent part of Fiddle-the-Cat, which is a necessary aid to the Wicked Witch Hex.

The Seven Dwarfs, whose defense of Snow White saves her from death finally, are: Blick, Phyllis Overstreet; Flick, David Price; Glick, Maurice Stoney; Snick, William Swain; Plick, Benjamin Dugger; Whick, Frederick Carter; Quee, Eleanor Solomons.

Eight Maids of Honor attend the Queen and appear in delightful dances. They are: Dorothea Brunswick, Alice Williams, Louise Duggar, Cicily Morse, Margaret Curtis, Virginia Norton, Alice Pepper, Ruth Cator.

Pine Needles

Mrs. George Shima, wife of the "Potato King," is here from the South with her children. They will be here several weeks.

Miss Mary Graber, an instructor in the University of Montana, is a guest of Miss Sara Featherstone for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jeffers have as guests a number of their relatives from the East.

Mrs. Julian Price and daughters, Virginia and Helen, who have been visiting Miss Featherstone, have returned to their San Francisco home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Northup of Carmel Valley, with their children, motored to San Jose last week.

H. B. Adby and family have purchased a lot on Russian Hill in San Francisco, and are planning to erect a home there. It will be next door to Annie Laurie.

Only about a week remains for citizens to get their names on the Great Register for the August Primary. Judicial officers and members of Congress are to be nominated on August 31.

Carmel Bath Pavilion open every evening for dancing; elect. piano; free admission. Wednesday evenings, Orchestra Dance.

in its broadest sense is the natural instinct of a vast majority of all human beings.

It is my business to build what you desire, according to your price, plans, specifications.

Put a house on that Carmel lot of yours. It will bring you a satisfactory income.

Restoration Activities

Next week (night to be announced on poster) a Spanish costume dance in aid of the Missions Restoration fund is to be given at Arts and Crafts Hall. Special Spanish dances will be given between the regular dances. Guests are requested to appear in Spanish costume. An unusually jolly and picturesque evening is promised.

Great impetus has been given the cause by the announcement of Grand President James F. Hoey of the Native Sons, who states that the organization will support the movement and actively engage in the work of securing money to restore Carmelo, Soledad and San Antonio Missions.

Arts and Crafts Hall a Thing of Beauty

Folks who, until recently had not been inside Arts and Crafts Hall, were amazed at the changes which have been made.

Cornelius Botke, the artist, drew the plans for the changes in the stage and Mrs. Botke, whose beautiful murals decorate the walls of the University of Chicago, designed the gold stencil on the stunning black stage curtains. George Seideneck, Lee Gottfried and Vasia Anikeeff did the walls, which look like velvet and should prove a fine background for exhibition of pictures.

The stage is striking in gray, orange and black, and was beautifully lighted for the musicians who played for the club dances. Herbert Hand is still working out the lighting system. Even the children had a share in the work, for Virginia Wise and Teddy Hand laid package of gold leaf on the peacock curtain-border, helping Mrs. Willie T. Wise, who assisted Ann Dare through all of the work.

The hall has become a veritable bee-hive, with classes in dyeing, jewelry making, painting and music.

Gates of Paradice (?)

Mrs. A. D. Signor reports the gate controversy at Godwin Point amicably adjusted. The gates will be opened or removed by permission to the place where the sand begins.

As the property to be protected is outside the city limits, the aid of Supervisor J. L. D. Roberts has been enlisted, and he has provided signs concerning the non-removal of loam and forbidding camping. All violators will be prosecuted.

There is absolutely no truth in the statement being circulated to the effect that Mrs. Signor is charging admission to the property.
